

How AQ SKU Can Work for You

Most organizations utilize an inventory system or an ERP to store product information such as inventory counts, internal stock numbers and custom price levels.

Using AQ SKU, you can bulk upload product data into AQ as often as you need.

With the uploaded product information, your sales team can search, filter and choose your custom products alongside those in AQ to create quotes.

An empowered sales team is an efficient sales team. AQ SKU equips your team with the inventory and product information they need, in one system (AQ), to quickly make informed decisions while quoting.
